Office—No. 112 West Gold Avenue.
(From the Daily, Sept. 24.)

A new crossing is being laid at the corner of Second street and Railroad avenue.

F. G. Pratt and wife are at Camp Whitcomb where they will remain several days.

C. W. Denver, manager of the Albuquerque house of Gross, Blackwell & Co. has gone east and will visit Boston.

H. I. Brewer and wife, of San Francisco, came in from the west last night, and are at the San Felipe. They are pleased with the appearance of Albuquerque as a prosperous city.

The employees of the Democrat ended the sporting editor of that paper last evening. It was Mr. Huff's 33d birthday, and the event was celebrated by the boys presenting him with a handsome cake.

Mrs. Alice M. McComas, wife of a former lawyer of this city, now of Los Angeles, with her daughter, came in from the west last night. They have quarters at the San Felipe, where their many Albuquerque friends can call and see them.

Mrs. M. E. Greene and daughter, of Chicago, are in the city, and are looking up suitable quarters in which to establish dressmaking. Mrs. Greene has been on a visit to her mother at White Oaks, and arrived here from that town last night.

Miss Melba Hawley, one of Albuquerque's popular young ladies and sweet singers, left last night for Los Angeles, where she will study under a celebrated teacher now in Southern California. The young lady expects to be absent about a year.

Two of Forepaugh's advertising cars, which have been at the depot, left last night for the south—one to Socorro, the other for Deming. The circus is being judiciously billed throughout central New Mexico for its entertainment here on Wednesday, Oct. 7.

Mrs. W. H. Barney, wife of Conductor Barney of the Atlantic & Pacific, and son, "Art" Barney, who have been visiting relatives and friends and having a most enjoyable vacation, returned home last night and were in the family circle at the San Felipe this morning.

It is understood that G. H. Miles, who intends to take charge of the Army, next Monday, will start in with new help throughout and the old ones are making preparations to leave. Miss Lida Stere goes tonight to California, while Miss Rose Cameron thinks seriously of going to Montana.

Thos. Stewart, breman on the Atlantic & Pacific, and Miss Marion Hamilton, who arrived Tuesday evening direct from Scotland, was married last night at the residence of John Beckett on the Highlands by Rev. Clayton. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have gone to housekeeping in a nice home on the Highlands.

Cutler Potter, Jr., son of the old gardener who died at his residence near the government Indian school the other evening, arrived last night from Seattle, Wash., and this afternoon the funeral of his father, which was postponed to wait his coming, took place, the remains being buried in Fairview cemetery.

Mayor Saint is at present on the ranch of the Acoma Cattle company, of which he is manager, superintending the roundup of the cattle, after which he will load and ship thirty cars of cattle from Grants station to the company's Kansas pastures. Cattle Inspector Johnson will go to Grants to inspect the stock before shipping.

Calvin Whiting, a citizen whom all Albuquerque feels a kindly interest in for his public spirit and manifest good will for the town, has returned home after a business trip to New York. Mr. Whiting secured the promise of several of his New York friends to be come interested in Albuquerque real estate this fall and winter.

Prof. Lyman E. Hood, of this city, had an invitation from Major J. W. Powell, chief of the United States geological survey, to accompany the delegates of the International congress of geologists to Flagstaff yesterday, but owing to other business could not spare the time. Prof. Hood, however, met the geologists at the depot, and entertained several of them in very pleasant conversation.

When Mrs. Louisa Sayle, of Bernalillo, was here last week during the fair, she lost her pocket book, containing $18 in money, a return railroad ticket to Bernalillo, and a check for $41. The pocket book was found in the Metropolitan water closet by a gentleman named Miller, with all the contents, except the money which was gone. The pocket book tickets, and check will be returned to Mrs. Sayle this evening.

A Degraded Creature.
With the crowd which arrived in this city from El Paso the first days of this week, came a low down degraded female, who calls herself "Maud Drew." Her garb is only a thin, loose, calico wrapper, and her unsightly appearance, face dirty and hair disheveled, wearing a dirty, greasy straw hat, is sufficient to shock the nostrils of the strongest. Her occupation appears to be to walk the streets at a swaying, insulting gait, and to buy whisky and if successful in securing the liquor to get drunk. She is what is termed a "common street walker," and indications are sufficient to class her among the very lowest of prostitutes, disease ridden slaves. Yesterday morning she was picked up in a drunken stupor on First street in front of Pratt's grocery and taken to the city jail. Yesterday she refused to talk, but today she talked a little to Marshal Maston, gave her name after much reluctance as mentioned above, but which is considered fictitious, stated that her father and mother are both dead, and when asked if she has any brothers or sisters living, said that a sister, named Minnie Palmer, resided in St. Louis but that she did not care to hear from her. Her tongue wandered, and in the short time occupied in the conversation she contradicted herself frequently. Her condition at present is distressing, she has reached the lowest depths of her miserable existence, has lost all her womanhood and decency, but she can say she is saved. In years past she knew a better life, and was a mother's bright-eyed daughter. Let the good women who look after such fallen creatures investigate this case, and see that her people, if there are any who care for her, know her condition.

LATE STOCK ITEMS
A Class of News of Interest to Stock Raisers.
D. S. Johns, a feeder of mutton at Dodge City, Kan., was here yesterday. He is in the southwest to buy sheep.
Mayor Saint will ship from Grants to day eighteen car loads of cattle to Kansas. The cattle are from the Acoma Cattle company's ranch.
J. S. McCusker arrived last night from the Datil mountains with two car loads of beef steers for the Blanchard Meat and Supply company of this city.
W. B. Slaughter, the well known and wealthy American valley cattle owner, will ship to day from Magdalena 331 steers to Superior, Neb. The steers were purchased by A. G. McCordie.
G. L. Brooks ships to day to Estancia Montoya, of San Antonio, N. M., one car load of French Merino hucks, raised by the well known firm of Dodge Bros., whose extensive ranges are in the vicinity of Flagstaff.
Hurst, Black, Kohne & Wiley shipped from Magdalena on the 24th to Grants, Kan., 500 steers, all of them a good sized lot, on the 24th shipped 200 head, which they had purchased from cattlemen in the Magdalena mountains, to Strong City.
J. G. Jones, of Silver City, shipped Monday from Deming 327 steers to Strong City, Kan., where they will be pastured, while George Smith & Co., also of Silver City, shipped on Tuesday from Deming 450 head of three year old steers to Minneapolis, Minn.

Distinguished Visitors.
The Hon. James W. Barclay and C. Cameron, of Scotland, members of the English parliament, are guests at the Palace hotel to day. The gentlemen are at the head of the Colorado Mortgage & Investment company, and they are traveling in a special car in company with the Denver officers of their corporation. These are Mr. S. J. Gilmore, the general manager, and Mr. W. P. Miller, attorney. The party have been traveling through Colorado, Kansas, the Indian Territory and Texas, and after seeing New Mexico's principal points as far south as the City of Mexico, Mr. Barclay is one of the owners of the Ignacio Chaves grant, a vast 12,000 acre in Bernalillo and Valencia counties. These gentlemen represent a powerful syndicate of English capitalists and their mission here may be expected to result in good. They have been eminently successful with their Colorado investments. It was their money that built the Windsor hotel, the Barclay block and other grand structures in Denver. They have over $5,000,000 invested in that city.

Messrs. Barclay and Cameron only will continue the trip south, to night, being accompanied as far as Las Cruces by Hon. E. A. Fiske. The former's home is at Forfarshire, Scotland, and Dr. Cameron represents the Glasgow district in parliament, New Mexico.

The Hanton-Volters.
The most daring and accomplished aerialists in the world today, are the Hanton-Volters. Hitherto they have refused to appear under canvass, but the princely salary offered them distinguished aerialists by the management of the Adam Forepaugh Shows, has induced them to associate themselves with this exhibition for the present season.

These "autocrats of aerial art" have twice traveled around the world, and are pointed before nearly every prince and potentate of the old world. Their performance of the great aerial act, known as the "Leap for Life," presents the most superb display of reckless daring and gymnastic skill the world has ever witnessed, while the indescribable ease, elegance and artistic execution of all their aerial acts, prove them justly entitled to the reputation of being the greatest of all living gymnasts and aerialists. They constitute a stellar attraction in the great Forepaugh Show, which is to exhibit here on Wednesday, Oct. 7.

Proved All Right.
Several days ago Mrs. L. M. King, residing on Tijeras street near Fourth, had Frank Hart and wife, neighbors, arrested for threatening to take her life. The case came up before Justice Madden, and Hart and his wife were placed under $100 bonds to keep the peace toward Mrs. King for six months. In retaliation, Hart and wife yesterday swore out a warrant against Mrs. King, charging her with keeping a disreputable and disorderly house this morning the trial took place before Justice Denham. Both parties were present and some very rich and racy testimony was expected, but it was a calm trial, the testimony being conclusive that Mrs. King was a good woman, conducted herself properly and did not keep such a house as was charged by the Harts. The case was therefore dismissed, the costs of which was assessed against the complainants.

Disgraced, He Melts Out.
Pedro G. de Luna, the disgraced partner in the publication of El Defensor del Pueblo, yesterday consummated the sale of all his interest in the concern to Augustin Baron, ex priest of Pena Blanca, Mr. Luna, who is a Spanish gentleman, was thoroughly disgusted and dissatisfied with the manner and tone in which El Defensor del Pueblo was being conducted by Juan Herrera, late of San Miguel county, and in order to quit his presence and association sacrificed his interest for $100. He left last night for his home at Las Cruces, and before going he intimated to a few of his intimate friends that the recent articles against the Catholic clergy were written while he was away from the office and by a person who formerly wore the garb of a clergyman.

Capt. W. A. Ablett, who has long been with Messrs. Percival & Hatten, real estate and insurance brokers, Des Moines, Iowa, and is one of the best known and most respected business men in that city, says: "I can testify to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Having used it in my family for the last eight years, I can safely say it has no equal for either colds or croup." 5 cent bottles for sale by Thos. H. Burges & Son, Druggists.

Just how an alternative medicine cleanses the system is an open question, but that Ayer's Sarsaparilla does produce a radical change in the blood is well attested on all sides. It is every where considered the best remedy for blood disorders.

up to the Santa Fe hospital by his friends some months ago where he could receive kind and better treatment, has returned very little better. Eight years ago, Dan Sullivan was one of the strongest men in the city, an athlete, but rheumatism has conquered his strength and he now drags himself along at a snail's pace, having to use a cane as he walks. This citizen would like to see him once more strong and in good health.

Now that the fair is over, the price fight ended, and the seven days' rush closed with success to the city and all of its people, let the Athletic association get together and do something. Paul C. Rizzardi, instructor of gymnastics, athletics, fencing and general physical training, who is at present with the Pueblo, Colo. Athletic club, would like to come to this city and be instructor of the local club. He is a well known athletic gentleman, and his letter which is directed to the president or secretary of the local club, contains recommendations which prove him to be first class in his line.

A team of two horses got scared in old town yesterday afternoon, and ran away, being captured by a man on foot near the corner of the city and all of its people, let the Athletic association get together and do something. Yesterday afternoon, (yesterday, Sept. 24), two of the Santa Fe Road's "running horses" and two family ponies were taken on a procession of the city. The horses were led by a buggy, which tipped over and was badly damaged. The man, who was driving the runaways, was thrown to the ground, but fortunately was not in the least hurt.

Delays of Trains.
The delays of trains which are reported general among both the Santa Fe and Atlantic & Pacific roads, are the cause of the delays which the trains are now experiencing.

The north bound passenger train from the Santa Fe depot here last night, left on schedule time, but at several points, near Alamogordo and south of Socorro and San Marcos, slow running is necessary, and that was the cause of the delay to the north bound train.

Trains from the north arrived last night. Near Raton, early yesterday morning, a freight was derailed, and New 12033, a train of the Santa Fe, was delayed. These trains are delayed, but a special from the north, bringing down the passengers, mail and baggage, is scheduled to reach the city at 4:30 this afternoon.

Between Bernalillo and Aguilera, a train is running over the track for 200 or 300 yards, and the fast freight train, No. 34, which was delayed on the other side of the break, did not arrive until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The breaks north of the city are easily repaired, while Division Superintendent Mudge has a gang watching and repairing the weak places south of the city. It is safe to say that the trains on the Santa Fe will be running on schedule time by this evening.

From the west, on the Atlantic & Pacific, serious washouts are encountered at Laguna and Rio Puerco. Last night's No. 2 and east bound passenger trains which have not yet arrived, first encountered a washout at Laguna, but that was repaired sufficiently well to allow the trains to pass over. They proceeded as far as Rio Puerco, where the water had cut the sand around the bridge and covered the track for a few hundred yards. The stream is a powerful and the current strong and treacherous. The break here is very bad and it is feared that the bridge will be washed away. The gang of workmen, who are at work there are doing faithful labor to prevent the going of the bridge. The two passenger trains are on the other side of the washout, but this morning Manager Gabel sent out a special train of coaches, and the passengers, mail and baggage were transferred and brought here, arriving at 12:45.

The regular north and south bound passenger trains will run on time, but passengers going west on the Atlantic & Pacific will take their train here, made up, at scheduled time and transfer at the washouts until they are repaired. Trainmaster Robins thinks that the breaks at Rio Puerco will be all repaired by tomorrow evening.

The Lion Dog "Saxon."
Boone and Carlotta the world famed lion tamer, who exhibit their lions liberated and unmuzzled in the circus ring, are assisted in their performance by a German hunting hound, which answers to the name of "Saxon." The dog was presented to Col. Boone by Count Bismarck. These dogs are known in Germany as the "boar hound," and are used in hunting the wild boar, and it is only dogs of this breed that will not run from a lion. Saxon accompanies the lions throughout their entire performance. He is to the lions what the shepherd's dog is to the flock, he urges them on, stands guard over them, and is ever ready to do his master's bidding. He is utterly fearless, and to see this intelligent dog running after the lions, barking at them, nipping at their heels, and assisting them in their difficult acts, is delightful. Said Col. Boone, "I would not take a thousand times his weight in gold for this noble dog." Boone and his lions will be here with Adam Forepaugh's show, on Wednesday October 7.

A territorial weather service will be started in Arizona in a few months, under the supervision of Mr. Hayden, in charge of the signal service instruments at the university. One observer will be appointed in each county, with possibly several more voluntary observers. The observers will report regularly to the Tucson station.

If that lady at the lecture the other night only knew how nicely Hall's Hair Renewer would remove dandruff and improve the hair she would buy a bottle.

CHICAGO TRAINING GROUNDS.
Likely to be Albuquerque. The question of a territorial hall league. Recently the manager of the Maroon base ball club received a letter from James A. Hart, president of the Chicago base ball club, the pennant leaders in the league association, stating that it was likely that the Chicago would next spring make Albuquerque their training grounds, if suitable arrangements could be made to that end. There is no reason why the Chicago could not get themselves in active trim for the next year's league race here as well as at the Hot Springs of Arkansas, where they have heretofore made their spring training grounds. The climate here for two months before the opening of the base ball season in the east is fine, and warm enough for outdoor sports, especially the playing of base ball, and the Chicago club will be invited to come and do their training in the Rio Grande valley. Should they accept the invitation to make this city their spring headquarters, a first class gymnasium will be established, and all the distinguished promoters of the national sport will be seen among our citizens. It would bring considerable capital and every spring elsewhere, to the city, and the amount of advertising the town would receive would be of incalculable benefit.

Since base ball has been such a success in the metropolis this year, there is a unanimous disposition on the part of the city to have the game in Las Vegas, Santa Fe and El Paso to organize early next season and to form a territorial league of four teams, comprising players, making a schedule for Saturday and Sunday games exclusively, and once more put forward and maintain the great national summer sport in the southwest.

THE CITIZENS' second idea of establishing a territorial league of local players, but lifts its voice, and that in strenuous tones, in opposition to the importing and paying of professional players, in fact the salary list for before the professionals of four years ago came to the southwest, base ball was run on the square, as it has been this year in the league in which the Maroons took part, and the match games between the towns of the southwest then were legitimate and exciting. When the professionals left and the territorial league came to an end, it took two weeks to revive base ball in New Mexico, and not until the Maroons of 1900, and until the Maroons of El Paso organized and got into the field, did the people manifest any desire to again interest themselves in the national sport. The people need summer sport and base ball fills the bill. Let the league, constituting Las Vegas, Santa Fe, El Paso and Albuquerque be organized early next spring.

Complimentary Hall.
Last evening a complimentary and farewell hop to Miss Lillian Hirst was held at the San Felipe hotel, and was one of the prettiest and most successful of the season. The hop was given by the young lady's friend and admirer, Mr. C. C. Hall, president of the Territorial Fair association, invitation cards having been printed and sent out in the afternoon, and from those who attended THE CITIZEN learns, and is pleased to announce, the affair a particular success and a great credit to Mr. Hall. The hop was noted for being so tact, social and enjoyable, and there was a general feeling among the guests, as they expressed their thanks for the evening's pleasure and their regrets for the departure of Miss Hirst, that they would enjoy many such delightful complimentary affairs. The order of dances consisted of twelve popular figures, but when the twelfth was reached the fun and mirth were at full tide, and several extras were called for before the guests left for their homes. The music, which was par excellence and of a superior order, was rendered by the Democratic orchestra. The following were present:

G. W. Meyert and wife, W. B. Childers and wife, Andrew Smith and wife, A. A. Keen and wife, M. C. Nettleton and wife, W. Y. Walton and wife, J. W. Robins and wife, G. L. Brooks and wife, H. B. Ferguson and wife, Bernard S. Bosley and wife, Solon E. Rose and wife, Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. Albert Eisenman, Mrs. Judge Hazledine, Major Wham and daughter, and Dr. A. P. Meyert and wife, of New York. The following young ladies and gentlemen were present: Misses Virginia Sloan, Beanie Lay, Margaret Lee, Lana Hunting, and Miss Wright, of Boston, and Miss Shultz, of El Paso; Messrs. George Helmer, F. M. Rose, Sam Sterne, Meyert, Bruner, Julius Eisenman and Mr. Lafferty.

Married.
This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the parlor of the Windsor hotel, W. H. Curtis, a popular brakeman on the Atlantic & Pacific, and Miss Hattie Poe were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. Beattie before a few intimate friends. George H. Moore and Miss Louise Fletcher stood up with the couple, and on the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. Moore stepped forward, presenting the pretty bride with an elegant bouquet. The groom was pleasantly attired in a handsome black suit, while the bride wore a cream white dress. THE CITIZEN extends congratulations.

The Electric Windlass.
The windlasses or reels on the electric poles, used in hoisting and lowering the lights in the middle of the streets, are dangerous in wet or damp weather. Last night a number of the city's precious kids ascertained that the windlasses were strongly charged with electricity, and at the corner of Railroad avenue and Third street, where one of the windlasses are, the boys had congregated for victims. The first to approach was Policeman Peffy, and one brave kid asked him to place his hand on the windlass. Unmindful that the kid had a joke in store for him and little thinking it was charged with electricity, he laid his full hand on the windlass and fell back shocked to the very bones of his body. His hat flew from his head and struck with force against a house, his badge was pulled from his fastening, his "stilly" jumped out of his coat pocket into a pool of water near by, and his pistol hung loosely on the hammer from his hip pocket. For a moment he was without authority as a peace officer, with a dozen kids near by indulging in the greatest laugh of their lives. He recovered himself, and on crossing the street to the south side met Marshal Maston and the reporter, to whom he related his experience. The marshal also tried the windlass and received a laugh, the kids enjoying another good laugh. A few seconds later Lew Preston, the electrician at the works, came along and was told that the windlass was dangerously charged. "Oh," he replied, "only slightly," and he placed one of his fingers against the windlass. To day the finger is wrapped in a rag, being badly burned.

Moral—Keep your hands off the electric windlass during wet weather.

A Crazy Passenger.
Among the passengers from the west on today's transfer train, was Charles Buchele, a German, 32 years of age, and he is insane. He was a passenger on No. 2, east bound, and just before the train reached Winslow yesterday he exhibited signs of possessing a flighty mind, watching the bell cord and grabbing at imaginary devils. Between Winslow and Hardy he jumped off, and at Hardy's he was missed from the train. A telegram was then sent back to Winslow for the next east bound train, No. 4, to watch out for the missing passenger.

John Carr, a workman, happened to be walking on the track between Hardy and Winslow, and seeing the man, persuaded him to get to Winslow with him. Buchele had walked the Little Colorado river and was thoroughly wet. At Winslow Harry Castle and John Carr were placed in charge of the crazy man, put on No. 4 passenger train, and at the washouts they were transferred to the special from this city, arriving here at 12:45 o'clock p. m. It became necessary to tie him with a good sized rope yesterday afternoon and night in order to keep him quiet and prevent him from injuring himself, although he appears quite to day, it is imagined that he has killed some person and that they and the devils are after him, he also states that while on a trip one time to Cleveland, Ohio, he became a millionaire in a day's time.

He has all sorts of hallucinations and he wanders from one subject to another. He is from San Francisco, where he states that he was a blacksmith, and has a ticket as far as Kansas City. He claims to be originally from Allegheny City, Penn., where his wife and four children now reside. From William Walsh, a passenger who traveled with him all day Wednesday, it is learned that the man was perfectly rational and at no time showed insanity until the train neared Winslow. He states that on the cars he was indulging in some drinks but not to excess. Buchele will be retained here until his folks are heard from.

Starting Night.
The meeting of the ladies of the Library association, together with a number of gentlemen who had been brought thither by urgent invitation, at the San Felipe hotel last evening, was largely attended and much enthusiasm exhibited in the scheme. Discussion of the ways and means of maintaining a public library was carried on for some time, and a motion was finally made and carried that the president of the library association appoint a committee of eight persons to confer with the city council at the next regular meeting of the board in regard to making it a free library to be supported by a tax for that purpose as they are empowered by a law so to do. A subscription of $500 from Joshua Reynolds, the banker, was announced to help along the enterprise. It was accepted with thanks. Numerous other subscriptions of large amounts in the way of a permanent endowment fund can be secured if the institution can be put on a substantial permanent basis. The question of location was also discussed at some length, but left open for the time being. The association then adjourned to meet at an early day to be announced in due time by the officers.

Yuma Prison's First Inmate.
The Yuma Times gives the following account of that penitential personage: Last Friday William Hall walked out of the Yuma penitentiary for the third time a free man once more. Hall stands on the prison register as No. 1, being the first convict committed after the establishment of the institution at that place. This was in May, 1875. His sentence was for life for manslaughter committed in Pima county. There being no buildings at that time, Hall spent the year or so of his sentence in the county jail. He was pardoned and released in July, 1884. His next sentence was for grand larceny in Pinal county, and he arrived at the prison again in 1886 on a two-year term. His behavior was good and he received credits, so that he was entitled to discharge in July 1888. Next he was indicted for the same offense in Maricopa county, under alias J. J. Runk, found guilty and given a three-year term, arriving at Yuma on May 15th, 1890. Again his behavior was good and his credits amounted to eight months, which was deducted from his time.

L. P. Miller & Co., of Stockton, California, have in press a fine line of books suitable for holiday trade. Dealers will do well to consult with them. The holidays will soon be here, and it is time to look up catalogues. In the line of Christmas books Messrs. Miller & Co. can suit all tastes.
